

I wish to comment on behalf of K-LOVE radio which I listen to on 94.3 out of Elgin IL. In addition to being the most encouraging, uplifting, positive programming to grace the airwaves, it is also informative of not only upcoming local events but of relevant world news that impacts all of us on a daily basis without negative bias. It has regularly carried me and other listeners through difficult times, moments of great need or simply offered the opportunity to rejoice. I can have it playing loudly at anytime knowing it will never be offensive. In this area, as well as all areas of listeners, this is a rare and much valued thing. I shudder to think of the effect on the community if this great service is displaced by an LPFM broadcaster. Gone would be one of the true reflections of quality programming and a literal lifeline to many, including me, who not only enjoy but need this to be available right here, right now. It is in the public's mental, emotional and spiritual interest to make sure this service remains unchallenged. Many remote areas are impacted throughout our country, joined by the common bond of this K-Love programming. Can we really afford to lose anything positive in this world today? Where are our values?
Thank you.
